A. Purpose of the Assessment

This group written assignment requires students to examine Malaysia's cultural, political, and economic transformation and its relationship to sustainable development. Students will analyse relevant developments in Malaysian society, consider intercultural and international perspectives, and collectively evaluate practices or approaches that may contribute to Malaysia's future development.

The assignment should demonstrate the group's ability to explain relevant transformations, compare perspectives, make reasoned collective judgements, and support its arguments with appropriate examples and credible academic evidence.

B. Course Learning Outcomes (CLO) covered

At the end of this assessment, students are able to:

CLO 2 Explain Malaysia's culture, political and economic transformation in fostering sustainable development.

C. University Policy on Academic Misconduct

1. Academic misconduct is a serious offense in Xiamen University Malaysia. It can be defined as any of the following:
   i. Plagiarism is submitting or presenting someone else's work, words, ideas, data or information as your own intentionally or unintentionally. This includes incorporating published and unpublished material, whether in manuscript, printed or electronic form into your work without acknowledging the source (the person and the work).
   ii. Collusion is two or more people collaborating on a piece of work (in part or whole) which is intended to be wholly individual and passed it off as own individual work.
   iii. Cheating is an act of dishonesty or fraud in order to gain an unfair advantage in an assessment. This includes using or attempting to use, or assisting another to use materials that are prohibited or inappropriate, commissioning work from a third party, falsifying data, or breaching any examination rules.

2. All assessments submitted must be the student's own work, without any materials generated by AI tools, including direct copying and pasting of text or paraphrasing. Any form of academic misconduct, including using prohibited materials or inappropriate assistance, is a serious offense and will result in a zero mark for the entire assessment or part of it. If more than one party is involved, such as in the case of collusion, all parties will receive the same penalty.

D. Instruction to Students

As a group, produce a creative video (10-15 minutes) that communicates your understanding and appreciation of values that contribute to harmony and tolerance within Malaysian society. Through collaborative and creative storytelling, demonstrate how these values can be practiced, strengthened, and communicated ethically and professionally in a multicultural society.

E. Evaluation Breakdown

No.	Component Title	Percentage (%)
1.	Video Creative Presentation	30
	TOTAL	30

F. Task(s): Required Content

1. Identify and communicate ONE central value or message related to harmony and tolerance in Malaysian society.
2. Explain or demonstrate why this value is meaningful in Malaysia's multicultural context using relevant situations, examples, or experiences.
3. Show how the selected value can be practiced, strengthened, or promoted in contemporary society.
4. Communicate the message ethically and professionally, with sensitivity toward cultural, religious, and social differences.
5. Conclude with a clear message, recommendation, or commitment that the group wishes to communicate to the audience.
6. Creative Format

Groups may choose a format that best communicates their message, such as a mini-documentary, short drama/skit, interview, talk show, podcast-style video, news report, vlog, digital storytelling, cultural feature, or another appropriate creative format. Creativity is encouraged, but technical sophistication is not the main basis of assessment. The quality of the message, ethical communication, presentation, and audience engagement is more important than expensive equipment or advanced editing.

Individual Participation and Presentation Delivery.

Every group member must make a clear and identifiable on-camera speaking contribution. Each student must be clearly visible while presenting their assigned part. The full name and Student ID of each member must be displayed in the video during their respective presentation segment. Failure to meet these requirements may result in mark deductions for the individual student concerned.

(Refer to Marking Rubric)

Important Submission Principle

- Video Submission and Accessibility: Upload the completed video to YouTube, Google Drive, OneDrive, or another accessible cloud platform. Students must ensure that the submitted link is accessible to the lecturer and authorised evaluators without requiring special access requests
- The video and its link must remain active and accessible throughout the evaluation period. They must not be deleted, removed, made private, or restricted until the official results have been released. Failure to provide an accessible link may result in the submission being treated as incomplete and may affect the marks awarded.
- ONE video link must be submitted per group. This is a group-based assessment, and no separate individual reflection is required. However, all group members are expected to contribute meaningfully to the discussion, evaluation, and preparation of the video presentation. Individual participation and contribution will also be considered through the Peer Evaluation component.
- Assessment Breakdown: Creative Video Presentation (90 marks) + Peer Evaluation (10 marks) = 100 marks.
- Peer Evaluation (10 marks): Marks will be awarded based on each member's individual contribution, cooperation, responsibility, and active participation in completing the group assignment. The peer evaluation link will be available later, and further instructions will be announced in class.

*If you have any questions or require further clarification, please do not hesitate to approach your lecturer for discussion.

Students are strongly encouraged to carry out all creative video production activities within the university campus. Should students choose to conduct any part of the work outside the campus, they do so at their own risk. The lecturer and the University shall not be held responsible for any accidents, injuries, losses, or other incidents that may occur outside the campus.

MARKING RUBRICS

	Component Title					Percentage (%)
	Criteria	Score and Descriptors					Weight (%)	Marks
		Excellent (18–20)	Good (14–17)	Average (10–13)	Need Improvement (5–9)	Poor (0-4)
1.	Understanding & Appreciation of Harmony/Tolerance	Insightful understanding and strong appreciation of the selected value/message and its significance to harmony and tolerance in Malaysian society.	Clear understanding and appreciation with relevant explanation/examples.	Basic understanding, but explanation is general or mainly descriptive.	Limited/inaccurate understanding; message is unclear or weakly connected to harmony/tolerance.	Very limited or largely inaccurate understanding; the message is missing, confusing, or shows little to no meaningful connection to harmony and tolerance.		20
2.	Application & Meaning of Values	Values are meaningfully interpreted and convincingly connected to realistic contemporary situations, behaviour or action.	Clear application with relevant examples; meaning is well explained	Some application is evident but remains general or underdeveloped.	Application is vague, unrealistic or disconnected from the selected value.	Application is missing, largely irrelevant, or unrealistic, with little to no meaningful connection to the selected value.		20
		(13–15)	(10–12)	(7–9)	(4–6)	(0–3)
3.	Creativity & Audience Engagement	Format is purposeful, original and highly engaging; creative choices strengthen the message without overshadowing it.	Appropriate and engaging creative approach that supports the message effectively	Some creative effort is evident, but engagement or integration with the message is inconsistent.	Limited creative effort or audience engagement; format does not effectively support the message.	Little to no creative effort or audience engagement; the chosen format is inappropriate, poorly executed, or fails to communicate and support the intended message.		15
4.	Ethical & Professional Communication	Communicates respectfully, sensitively and professionally; demonstrates strong ethical awareness when representing cultural/social perspectives.	Communication is respectful and professional with good ethical awareness.	Generally appropriate communication, with some weaknesses in sensitivity, clarity or professionalism.	Significant weaknesses in professionalism, sensitivity or ethical awareness.	Little to no demonstration of professionalism, sensitivity, or ethical awareness; content may be inappropriate, insensitive, or show disregard for ethical considerations.		15
		(9-10)	(7-8)	(5-6)	(3-4)	(0–2)
5.	Individual Presentation Delivery	Presents confidently and naturally with consistent eye contact, purposeful body language and appropriate facial expression. Voice is clear, expressive and well-paced. Strong familiarity with content and minimal dependence on notes/scripts. Highly engaging and professional.	Good eye contact most of the time, appropriate body language and clear vocal delivery. Generally confident and fluent; occasional reference to notes does not significantly affect engagement.	Some eye contact and appropriate body language, but delivery is inconsistent. Frequently refers to notes/script; voice may be monotonous, hesitant or uneven in pace.	Predominantly reads from a script/slides/device with minimal eye contact. Limited body language or engagement; delivery is frequently monotonous, unclear or hesitant.	Fully or almost entirely dependent on a script, slides, or device, with little to no eye contact. Body language and audience engagement are absent or ineffective; delivery is consistently monotonous, unclear, hesitant, or difficult to follow.		10
6.	Teamwork & Contribution	Strong evidence of balanced collaboration; contributions are well integrated and every member plays a meaningful, identifiable role.	Good collaboration and generally balanced contribution; roles are clear.	Participation is evident but contribution or integration is uneven.	Limited evidence of collaboration; contribution is substantially uneven or one/more members have little identifiable participation.	Little to no evidence of effective collaboration; contributions are highly uneven, with one or more members showing minimal or no identifiable participation in the group work.		10

Note to students: Please include the marking rubric when submitting your coursework. Failure to attach the marking rubric will result in a 10-mark penalty from the overall written assignment mark.
